[redacted] advised that approximately two months ago, the exact date not recalled, she visited a friend of hers, Mrs. JEANETTE COPLIN, at the home of the latter which is in Citrus Heights. She said Mrs. COPLIN is really more of a customer than a friend and went over there to deliver a wig. She described Mrs. COPLIN as slightly unstable in that she has taken overdoeses of medicine and reportedly attempted suicide in the past. She said, however, Mrs. COPLIN seems very nice and intelligent and should be able to furnish information concerning JERRY DOEDEN who was visiting Mrs. COPLIN at the time.

[redacted] said she arrived at Mrs. COPLIN's house in Citrus Heights just before dinner and was there for perhaps 45 minutes. She said DOEDEN, who had attended school with Mrs. COPLIN in Roseville or Yuba City, was passing through town and had stopped to visit Mrs. COPLIN. She said he stayed for dinner, but [redacted] did not.

While [redacted] was at Mrs. COPLIN's home, DOEDEN began to blatantly talk of overthrowing the Government and of working with the Black Panther Party. He said they were going to blow up Shasta Dam in February when the time is right. DOEDEN related that he had a front which was a bookstore with a red front on Mission Street in San Francisco. He said the military of his group were under the direction of a retired military man. He said they had

[] said she was shocked to hear anyone talk in that manner and asked DOEDEN if he realized the consequences of blowing up the Shasta Dam and the great havoc that would result to a very large area below the dam. She said DOEDEN replied that that was the idea as it would make people think and would arouse them to consider whether they had the right form of government. He explained that the object of his group was to keep the people stirred-up in thinking so that they would begin to question whether the present form of government was the best. She then asked him if he was a Communist, and he replied yes. She said to him that he should then go to Cuba or Russia to live, and he replied that his Communism was a pure Communism unaffected by the interpretations placed upon it in those countries, and he wanted to bring it about in this country and to be here to lead his people when Communism did arrive. She said DOEDEN told her she would be amazed at the great number of people who are going along with his movement.

[] said she realized that much of what DOEDEN told her sounded like so much "goop", but she was afraid to not allow for the possibility he was telling some truth. She said he certainly seemed sincere and to believe implicitly in everything he was saying. IN VIEW OF SUBJECT'S ADVOCATING REVOLUTION AND BECAUSE

BLACK PANTHER PARTY, aka Black Panther Party for Self Defense

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by [REDACTED] Huey P. Newton, BPP Minister of Defense. Newton is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther," which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service," states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

b7C

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial [REDACTED] which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "...we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

A source has advised that the Students For A Democratic Society (SDS), as presently regarded, came into being at a founding convention held June, 1962, at Port Huron, Michigan. From an initial posture of "participatory democracy" the line of the national leadership has revealed a growing Marxist-Leninist adherence which currently calls for the building of a revolutionary youth movement. Concurrently, the program of SDS has evolved from civil rights struggles to an anti-Vietnam war stance to an advocacy of a militant anti-imperialist position. China, Vietnam, and Cuba are regarded as the leaders of worldwide struggles against United States imperialism whereas the Soviet Union is held to be revisionist and also imperialist.

At the June, 1969, SDS National Convention, Progressive Labor Party (PLP) forces in the organization were expelled. As a result, the National Office (NO) group maintained its National Headquarters at 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois, and the PLP faction set up headquarters in Cambridge, Massachusetts. This headquarters subsequently moved to Boston. Each group elected its own national officers, which include three national secretaries and a National Interim Committee of eight. Both the NO forces and the PLP forces claim to be the true SDS. Both groups also print their versions of "New Left Notes" which sets forth the line and the program of the particular faction. The NO version of "New Left Notes" was recently printed under the title "The Fire Next Time" to achieve a broader mass appeal.

Two major factions have developed internally within the NO group, namely, the Weatherman or Revolutionary Youth Movement (RYM) I faction, and the RYM II faction. Weatherman is action-oriented upholding CASTRO's position that the duty of revolutionaries is to make revolution. Weatherman is regarded by RYM II as an adventurist, elitist faction which denies the historical role of the working class as the base for revolution. RYM II maintains that revolution, although desired, is not possible under present conditions, hence emphasizes organizing and raising the political consciousness of the working class upon whom they feel successful revolution depends. Although disclaiming control and domination by the Communist Party, USA, leaders in these two factions have in the past proclaimed themselves to be communists and to follow the precepts of a Marxist-Leninist philosophy, along pro-Chinese communist lines.

A second source has advised that the PLP faction which is more commonly known as the Worker Student Alliance is dominated and controlled by members of the PLP, who are required to identify themselves with the pro-Chinese Marxist-Leninist philosophy of the PLP. They advocate that an alliance between workers and students is vital to the bringing about of a revolution in the United States.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

SDS regions and university and college chapters, although operating under the outlines of the SDS National Constitution, are autonomous in nature and free to carry out independent policy reflective of local conditions. Because of this autonomy internal struggles reflecting the major factional interests of SDS have occurred at the chapter level since the beginning of the 1969-70 school year.

A characterization of PLP is attached.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY (PLP)

"The New York Times" city edition, Tuesday, April 20, 1965, page 17, reported that a new party of "revolutionary socialism" was formally founded on April 18, 1965, under the name of the PLP which had been known as the Progressive Labor Movement.

According to the article, "The Progressive Labor Movement was founded in 1962, [redacted] [redacted] after they were expelled from the Communist Party of the United States for assertedly following the Chinese Communist line."

b7C

A source advised on June 3, 1968, that the PLP held its Second National Convention in New York City, May 31 to June 2, 1968, at which time the PLP reasserted its objective of the establishment of a militant working class movement based on Marxism-Leninism. This is to be accomplished through the Party's over-all revolutionary strategy of raising the consciousness of the people and helping to provide ideological leadership in the working class struggle for state power.

The source also advised that at the Second National Convention [redacted] was unanimously re-elected [redacted] of the PLP and [redacted] [redacted] to lead the PLP until the next convention.

The PLP publishes "Progressive Labor", a bimonthly magazine; "World Revolution", a quarterly periodical; and "Challenge-Desafio", a monthly newspaper.

The April, 1969, issue of "Challenge-Desafio" sets forth that "Challenge is dedicated to the peoples fight for a new way of life--where the working men and women control their own homes and factories; where they themselves make up the entire government on every level and control the schools, courts, police and all institutions which are now used to control them."

Source advised on May 8, 1969, that the PLP utilizes an address of General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn, New York, and also utilizes an office in Room 617, 1 Union Square West, New York, New York.

On 9/22/70, Officer [redacted] San Francisco Police Department Intelligence Unit, advised that on or about 9/18/70, a person identifying himself as a bail-bondsman appeared at the Missing Persons Detail of the police department and requested police help in arresting DOEDEN for an outstanding bench warrant. This request was denied.

It is unknown whether a citizen's arrest was made by the bondsman, who was evidently from the Yuba City, California, area. San Francisco is presently attempting to determine whether DOEDEN was in fact arrested, as he has not been observed since 9/18/70.

Doeden was reportedly a self-proclaimed leader of the Liberation Army Revolutionary Group Organization (LARGO) which, in March of 1970, sent letters to various Northern California county officials threatening a revolution in the United States.

[redacted] was interviewed at his residence.

The interviewing Agents immediately identified themselves as Special Agents [redacted] and [redacted] and advised [redacted] that the purpose of the interview was to determine his relationship with GINO SAVO and his knowledge concerning any revolutionary activities.

[redacted] advised as follows:

[redacted]

He has not seen GINO SAVO in two or three months and does not care to see him in the future. GINO was a [redacted] and even their political ties have been severed. He advised he has no knowledge of SAVO's recent statements concerning destruction of police stations, military installations, and other institutions such as the Bank of America, or any other acts of violence. SAVO likes to believe he has many followers but people who [redacted] is politically familiar with do not follow SAVO's self-proclaimed leadership.

[redacted] further advised that [redacted] SAVO co-founded a group called "Stage One of the American Revolution". This was a loose knit, no membership type organization which was really a group of people holding similar political beliefs. This loose group of street organizers and demonstrators was formed to overthrow the United States Government by any means. Violence or taking up arms against the United States Government may become necessary when the time arises. This group is now just people of similar political beliefs who are acquainted with each other but has no formal posture and do not meet as an organization. They also have no activities planned for the future.

[] considers himself to be a "radical". He defines radical as anyone who advocates political change other than through normal avenues such as voting. As a radical, he participates in various demonstrations, pickets, and labor strikes.

He does not feel that the time for armed insurrection against the United States Government is presently at hand, however, when the time comes that he feels there should be armed uprisings, he would be an active participant. He stated he does not like to make friends other than political associations because in time of armed uprisings he might have to kill that friend because of political differences.

He does not belong to any organization called Liberation Army Revolutionary Group Organization (LARGO), and is not familiar with its activities except through a daily San Francisco newspaper, the "San Francisco Examiner", and a person known to him as (First name unknown) []. He advised that [] sometime around March, 1970 and claimed to be acquainted with LARGO. Among other things, [] said a test for a true revolutionary was to kill a "pig" and that he tried to recruit GINO SAVO and himself to join LARGO. SAVO and [] were suspicious of [] as being an informant for some agency but played along with him and used [] on a couple of labor pickets.

The article in the "San Francisco Examiner" was printed sometime in March, 1970, written [] and this article stated that LARGO was a newly formed revolutionary group which had written threatening letters to various officials in northern California. This article further stated that the above letters originated from the

[redacted] denied having anything to do with the threatening LARGO letters and advised that he did not know how these letters originated. He further mentioned that the article called the person that he knew as [redacted] by the name of [redacted]

As to his membership or affiliations with other subversive organizations, [redacted] advised that on February 24, 1971, he furnished a signed statement to an Army Intelligence Officer at the Oakland Induction Center, Oakland, California, stating the various organizations he was affiliated with and did not care to repeat them.
[redacted] advised that the statements he made on that occasion, which was a preinduction interview, have not changed with the exception of his current disassociation with GINO SAVO.

[redacted] refused to furnish identities of other individuals that he knew in the New Left Movement and advised that he had no other information to furnish.

[redacted] was interviewed at [redacted] which is her current residence. Immediately upon contact, [redacted] was advised of the identity of the interviewing Agent as SA [redacted] of the FBI. She was advised that the purpose of this interview was to determine her relationship with GINO SAVO and also to determine whether she had any knowledge of SAVO making threatening or revolutionary statements.

[redacted] advised as follows:

Prior to any questioning, [redacted] advised that anything she says will be a true statement but that she would not make any statement that would place anyone in jeopardy. She advised that her purpose in being here was to overthrow the unjust United States Government.

b6

[redacted]

Regarding GINO SAVO, her last personal contact with him was in December, 1970, and in mid February, 1971, she was in telephonic contact with him. These contacts were personal in nature and also involved getting a monetary settlement from SAVO on [redacted]

[redacted] advised she did not have any knowledge of threatening statements made by SAVO within the past few months concerning any type of violence such as placing explosives at banks, police stations, military installments, or any other institution that was considered part of the establishment. When questioned as to whether she ever heard SAVO propose bombs and other forms of violence,

[] refused to answer.

As to her own feelings on violent tactics such as bombing, she advised that in any movement it depended on the time and the frustrations felt by the people in the movement. If the people felt there was a political crises with no other alternative, then she thought activities such as bombing would be effective. However, she advised that under present conditions, violent activities such as bombing presented a destructive action to their own goals. [] made it clear that she would take up arms against the United States Government if she felt the time was right and if she felt that such activities would add to their cause in overthrowing the Government at this time.

Regarding Liberation Army Revolutionary Group Organization (LARGO), she advised that the first she heard about LARGO was when a newspaper of the San Francisco East Bay, possibly the "Berkeley Gazette", carried an article about various people in high official status receiving threatening letters from LARGO. Also, in about March, 1970, a person identifying himself as [] and claimed to belong to a group called LARGO. It was obvious that he was a "pig" of some sort from the moment he walked in. Statements made by [] such as the people he knew in the movement, were obviously false and although he said he was in a Los Angeles jail for four months, he could not furnish the name of the jail. [] further mentioned that this [] even gave her a slingshot possibly made for kids, merely because she said she would like to have one. Everything he said and did made it very obvious that he was not a true revolutionary but more probably an informant.

[redacted] further advised she was interviewed by

in March, 1970 concerning LARGO, saying that the Bookstore" and that this [redacted] mentioned a [redacted]

who is most definitely the same person as [redacted] [redacted] advised that she did not like what [redacted]
put in the article because some of the statements attributed to her were, in fact, false.

[redacted] further advised that she belonged to "Stage One of the American Revolution" (SOAR) and that there were no scheduled meetings of this organization.
She said people just got together when and if the need arose and the purpose of the organization was to overthrow the United States Government. She advised she did not want to go into further detail regarding SOAR and also that she did not want to mention the identities of any other organizations to which she may belong.

A signed statement by [redacted] to the United States Army Intelligence Corps at the Oakland Induction Center, Oakland, California, on February 24, 1971, reflects in part the following information:

[redacted] the Asian Americans for Action (AAA) approximately three months ago. AAA was organized in about 1967 by [redacted]
[redacted]

[redacted] The AAA questions the right of the United States to be in Southeast Asia and demands the withdrawal of a racist United States Government from the affairs of Asians. The AAA does not advocate the overthrow of the United States Government by force of arms but would advocate the overthrow or more specifically a change in form by economic violence.

Iijima is also a member of the All Union Caucus (AUC), which he claims to be the founder of in September of [redacted]. He claims the AUC is an active organization but refused to give the names of any members of the group or how many members there are. The purpose of the organization was to support other member labor organizations, which he declined to identify. The purpose is to coordinate information between various labor organizations.

[redacted] There are no dues required and the RC is most interested in a change of administration of the local Union 261 and specifically mafia dominance in the International Laborer's Union.

[redacted] Stage One of the American Revolution (SOAR). SOAR is a very loose group of street organizers and demonstrators with the purpose of overthrowing the United States Government by any means necessary which would not exclude the taking up of arms against the United States Government. Gino Savo, co-founder of SOAR, is a close associate of [redacted]

[redacted] He refused to say how many members the SOAR has or how geographically widespread it is. Gino Savo resided at his former residence in the rear of the bookstore at 3191 Mission Street, San Francisco, at varying dates, but he claimed to have no knowledge of Savo's current whereabouts. The SOAR has no activities planned and the last activity was a demonstration against the "Independent Journal", a newspaper in Marin, California. They also had some participation in the demonstration against President KY of Vietnam in San Francisco, but [redacted] refused to reveal any other names of members of SOAR.

[redacted] claimed that he never was a member of the LARGO.

The Subject is the leader of the Liberation Army Revolutionary Group Organization (LARGO) which in March, 1970, publicly declared a state of revolution to begin on March 15, 1970, in Northern California, by mailing letters to various Northern California officials. In December, 1970, the Subject claimed to have small organized groups ready to proceed with a revolution to commence the latter part of January, 1971, which would include acts of violence in some parts of Northern California. Subject presently being sought on local bench warrant for failure to appear on non-support warrant.

Through source contacts, it appears that the Subject has not been politically active during 1971; however, since the Subject's current residence and employment remain unknown, it is recommended that he be included on ADEX - Category I until he is located, and a re-evaluation can be made.

The next report on the Subject is due January 25, 1972.

ALL INDIVIDUALS INVOLVED IN NEW LEFT EXTREMIST ACTIVITY SHOULD BE CONSIDERED DANGEROUS BECAUSE OF THEIR KNOWN ADVOCACY AND USE OF EXPLOSIVES, REPORTED ACQUISITION OF FIREARMS AND INCENDIARY DEVICES, AND KNOWN PROPENSITY FOR VIOLENCE.

In reviewing captioned subject's file at FBIHQ, it is that Doeden was active in the movement in [redacted]

FBIHQ is fully cognizant of the fact that [redacted] advised that when Savo last contacted her, [redacted] advised Savo that they did not desire ever to be recontacted by him. However, in view of the past close association between the [redacted] and subject, the fact that the subject does have personal knowledge of the whereabouts of the [redacted] and that Doeden has a Minnesota background, in that he was born in Crookston, Minnesota, may all be overriding factors which would cause subject to recontact the [redacted]

ALL INDIVIDUALS INVOLVED IN NEW LEFT EXTREMIST ACTIVITY SHOULD BE CONSIDERED DANGEROUS BECAUSE OF THEIR KNOWN ADVOCACY AND USE OF EXPLOSIVES, REPORTED ACQUISITION OF FIREARMS AND INCENDIARY DEVICES, AND KNOWN PROPENSITY FOR VIOLENCE.

NOTE:

Captioned subject is currently on the ADEX of the San Francisco Division. Information has been developed which indicates that Doeden was a leader of the Liberation Army Revolutionary Group Organization (LARGO) in San Francisco, and had at one time stated that he had 30 armed individuals ready to proceed with the revolution which would commence during the latter part of 1/71. Also, in the past Doeden has discussed an alleged plot which included, among other things, the kidnapping of a county sheriff in California, and unnamed city officials in Berkeley, California, as well as bombing the Bank of America in San Francisco. In view of the above activities, coupled with the fact that subject has been missing for such an extensive period of time, it is believed that every consideration should be given to reinterviewing [redacted] in the event current leads within the New York Division prove unproductive. Therefore, San Francisco being instructed as indicated.
